In-House Leasing =
Local AccountABILITY.

datamax®
Relevant Technology • Raving Results®

“Datamax’s in-house Leasing Division ensures a level of accountability you won’t find through a 3rd party provider.”

How so? The same company that you acquire your technology solution from is the same company that services and cares for it – and since that’s the same company that holds your lease and to whom payments are made, accountability empowers our business relationship.”

“I’ve always been proud to say I was from El Dorado. I’m just as proud now, as your local account manager, to demonstrate the know-how and accountability you deserve.”

About Datamax

Datamax Inc. is a single-source technology partner for office equipment, print management, document management, network management, production print, and unified communication solutions. Our approach concentrates on identifying corporate objectives, researching relevant technical options, and providing unbiased recommendations that align business goals with technology. We streamline business workflows, improve user productivity, and maximize the return on technology investment. Most importantly, we responsibly deliver what we declare in the pursuit of Creating Raving Fans®.

We combine the power of self-funded leasing, service and support of network integrated products and workflow solutions, remote network monitoring, partnership-driven customer service, and installation and support, which allows our clients to perform at higher rates of efficiency while controlling expenses.

In the end, Datamax empowers its clients with the freedom to focus on managing their business—not their technology.
