Architecture (AEC) Firms

Architectural, Engineering and Construction (AEC) firms frequently express to us the following challenges: How can technology help us improve the collaborative design process, accelerate project completion and free up time to pursue more project engagements. Datamax's technology portfolio addresses such challenges by lowering costs, automating processes, and improving communication between designers, engineers, principals, and clients. Count on Datamax to maximize the technology that matters!

Datamax can help you:

- enhance collaboration and speed up project completion through easy-to-use document and imaging workflow solutions,
- protect intellectual property, such as files, drawings, models and contracts, residing in the digital space, with a multi-layered IT security strategy,
- enhance project with accurately printed color technical documents; accentuate collaboration by sharing and printing documents in and from the cloud,
- automate review and approval processes for plans, specifications, proposals, engineering drawings and other document types, and
- manage vendor invoice and project change order processing more efficiently to take advantage of early payment discounts.

Through relevant technology advisory and total solution deployment, we help architecture-related businesses "go vertical" by maximizing their workflow processes, communications, and bottom line.
